The Next Mayor of New York.

In a month from the present time, the people of the great city of New York will be called upon to elect a mayor in the place of Mr. Hoffman, who has just been elected Governor of the State. Of the result, there is no doubt. The Democrats will be successful no matter how honest, able and true the man is whom the Republicans may put in nomination. The city is, it would seem, irredeemably Democratic, and will remain so as long as fraudulent voting continues. Our Republican friends will undoubtedly do all in their power, as they did at the recent election, to prevent illegal voting, and will make a gallant stand for their candidate but with a full knowledge that defeat awaits them.

The New York Sun favors the nomination of Manton Marble, the editor of the World. It thinks that his courage, capacity, personal magnetism, and party record pre-eminently fit him for the great distinction. It declares that, in the Presidential campaign, the services of the World were "remarkable, audacious, an effective legend precedent." To quote further: "During to incur the suspicion and face the hostility of those whose narrow minds could not comprehend its purpose, it led off in the only great movement which have distinguished the campaign. Its genius and wisdom now stand fully vindicated in the success of Seymour and Hoffman in this great State. It is not too much to say that, but for the original and perfect policy of the World, this unexpected achievement could hardly have been reached."

Furthermore, the Sun thinks it about time that the newspaper press received their share of the glories and spoils of office. They do more for the party than any other class of politicians. It continues: "The lawyers and the hawks of a party come out just before election, and go spouting around the country; but the writer of the press is in the harness night and day, from one year's end to the other, sleeping only upon his arms in front of his ever-lighted watch-fire. If the Democracy wish to live, and to become once more a powerful national party, let them show that they have some sense of the effects by giving Manton Marble a unanimous nomination for the high office of Mayor of New York."

What will Brick Pomeroy say to all this? Mr. Pomeroy has not so high an opinion of Manton Marble or the World as has the Sun. He does not think that the World rendered the party very effective service during the Presidential campaign. On the other hand, he regards it as a dead weight on the party; and is waging a strong opposition to it. If the Democrat (Brick Pomeroy's New York paper) has anywhere near the circulation that is claimed for it, it must have considerable influence among its readers in the city; and on this account it will be well for the Democracy to consult with the editor of the Democrat in the selection of a candidate for mayor. It certainly does not look now as if Brick would give Manton Marble a very cordial support.

FALL-FEEDING the meadows is the most unjustifiable of all the evil practices of our husbandry. The evil consequences are not confined to pulling up and exposing the roots, as is generally supposed, but the treading of them out is a still greater evil. Who has not seen, if his meadows are rich, little tufts of wild grass springing up all over them, which, on examination, are found to come out of those spots where the cultivated grass has been crushed out by the foot of an animal? Or if, as is too often the case, the meadows have been mowed and fed till they have become pretty well exhausted, the foot-prints of the animals will be found to be either quite blank spaces, or covered with a shaggy leage of some noxious species. A little careful investigation will satisfy the most incredulous that no profit, but very considerable injury accrues from feeding the meadows. We would rather have the profit, after paying all the expense of culture, from an acre of green corn fodder or of cabbages than from the fall feed of any 60-acre meadow in Franklin County, to say nothing of the advantage to the meadow, or of the manure.

POULTRY COOPS.—Dr. Jabez Fisher, of Fitchburg, Mass., who does quite a business in the poultry and egg line, keeps his hens in coops throughout the year. His coops, in each of which he keeps 15 hens, are 9 feet long and 4 feet wide, and made in two compartments. The "house," in which are the nests and roosting bars, is three by four feet, and from three to four feet high, and made from matched boards, with suitable rooms, &c., and facilities for putting in a movable floor when it is desired to transport them. The other compartment is a regular slatted coop, top, sides and end made of laths nailed to a stiff frame. The whole is without floor, and is moved about on the ground every day, thus affording many if not all the advantages of running at large. In winter, the coops are set in a shed, affording abundant protection for the fowls. Dr. Fisher says that pullets raised in these coops will lay two months earlier than if permitted to run at large. He feeds meat and a variety of vegetable food, with plenty of water, but does not permit food to lie by them. He is very careful not to overfeed, believing that the results are injurious.

THE WORLD MOVES.—Thirty-one years ago last Saturday Rev. Elijah P. Lovejoy was murdered by a mob in Alton, Ill. for publishing an anti-slavery newspaper.

ELECTORS.—The Presidential Electors of Massachusetts will assemble at the State House, Boston, on the 2nd day of December.

THE NEXT CONGRESS.—The next Congress, according to our reports from the recent elections, will be composed of 139 Republican and 81 Democratic members, with the States of New Hampshire and Connecticut yet to elect. The political complexion of the last House was 174 Republican and 53 Democratic.

THE NEW YORK ELECTION.—Seymour's majority in the State of New York is put down at from eight to ten thousand; that of Hoffman is between twenty and twenty-five thousand. The Republicans will have a majority of twenty-two in the lower House, and of twenty-four on joint ballot which secures the election of a Republican United States Senator. It is stated that in both branches of the Legislature the majority of members are favorable to the election of Gov. Fenton.

Golden Wedding of Hiland Hall and Mrs. Dolly T. Hall.

The Bennington Banner of the 5th gives the following interesting account of the golden wedding of E. Gov. Hiland, and his wife, of North Bennington:

On the cloudless Oct. afternoon of last week Tuesday, nearly three hundred guests assembled at the palatial mansion of Hon. T. W. Park, Gov. Hall's son-in-law—free cars and carriages, generously tendered by the host, running at frequent intervals to and from the house; and choice refreshments being served in superabundance, but without the cup that inebriates.

To meet and congratulate Gov. and Mrs. Hall, on so memorable an event as the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding day, was the attraction. Next to this were two unique features of the gathering that deserve prominent record: First, there were no gifts, the display of which has seemed inseparable upon such occasions—No presents received was the mandate upon the elegant cards of invitation. These who knew Governor Hall were not taken by surprise at this; secondly, it was a long to be remembered reunion of old acquaintances, friends, and townsmen, and of old-time neighbors. A former school-teacher, for two years of Governor Hall's life, a schoolmate aged 77, who was present at his wedding, which was at Rockingham, over the mountain, aged respectively 73 and 69. The gentlemen present were requested to record their names and ages; of those who did so, one was 79, two 77, two 76, three 75, two 74, two 73, four 72, one 71, thirteen 65-70, fifteen 60-64. Unfortunately for those under 50, they were excluded by the rule of invitation. Cards were sent to many friends abroad and several kind and valued responses received.

Rev. Isaac Jennings offered prayer. Governor Hall read to his guests from a paper on the genealogy of the family—significantly, "emphatically," "respectable ancestors" with not a word to our own respectability if we are not respectable ourselves. It appears, however, that fourth generation to whom the "golden wedding" has been successively permitted by a kind Providence, as follows: Hiland Hall and Dolly Tuttle Davis m. Oct. 27, 1818; his father and mother, Deacon Nathaniel Hall and Abigail Hubbard, who lived together 51 years and 5 months; his grand parents, Thos. Hall and Phoebe Blackley, who lived together 51 years and 5 months; his great-grand parents, Hiland Hall and Rachel Bishop, who lived together 55 years and 3 months. Mrs. Hall's parents, Henry Davis and Mary Tuttle lived together 50 years lacking three days—he was in the battle of Bunker's Hill, and served at West Point, and at other places, several years during the revolutionary war.

Mr. Jennings read the 81st Chapter of Proverbs for a verse 10 to the close of the chapter, with personal reference to Mrs. Hall, the beautiful appropriateness of which was warmly accorded by those present. He mentioned in illustration of verses 19, 20, the fact that during the late war Mrs. Hall knit hundreds of pairs of socks with yarn spun by herself, sending a large part of them to our soldiers; and since that time she had cut and made up scores of yards of cloth into garments for poor children. Five sons with their wives, and a grand child were present at this to them, proud and grateful anniversary. These children, that mother had tended, watched over, cared for, toiled for, and prayed for. To those looking upon her there, still fair as any youthful bride, the safety and happiness of an earnest mother's life must have commended itself in comparison with that of those who repudiate such duties in order to come to some fashionable notions of the present day.

It may be added that Governor Hall still in good health and with intellectual vigor, looks back upon an honored career of public service without a tinge of regret. A representative of the town in the General Assembly; State's Attorney; Member of Congress for 10 years; Judge of the Supreme Court, 4 years; Controller of the U. S. Treasury under President Fillmore; U. S. Land Commissioner in California; Governor of this State 2 years; President of the Vermont Historical Society until his resignation, 6 years. He has also just issued his Early History of Vermont, pronounced by Rev. Pliny H. White the most contribution to the history of the State that has been made. He resides with his son-in-law upon the estate which was settled upon in 1779 by his grandfather Thomas Hall, and has ever since been in the possession of the family.

DR. WISTAR'S

BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

In the whole history of medical discoveries no REMEDY has performed so many or such remarkable cures of the numerous affections of the THROAT, LUNGS and CHEST, as this long-tried and justly celebrated Balsam. So generally acknowledged is the superior excellence of this remedy that but few of the many who have tested its virtues by experience fail to keep it at hand as a speedy and certain cure for sudden attacks of cold—fully believing that its remedial powers are comprehensive enough to embrace every form of disease, from the slightest cold to the most dangerous symptom of pulmonary complaint.

Unsolicited Testimony.

From Rev. FRANCIS LORDELL, Pastor of the South Congregational Church, Bridgeport, Connecticut.

"I consider it a duty which I owe to suffering humanity to bear testimony to the virtues of Dr. Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. I have used it—when I have had occasion for any remedy for coughs, colds or sore throat—for many years, and never in a single instance has it failed to relieve and cure me. I have frequently been very hoarse on Saturday, and looked forward to the delivery of two sermons on the following day with sad misgivings, but by a liberal use of the Balsam my hoarseness has invariably been removed, and I have preached with freedom and to public speakers generally, as a certain remedy for the bronchial troubles to which we are peculiarly exposed."

GRACE'S

CELEBRATED SALVE.

From Mr. E. Tucker, Depot Master at Salisbury, Mass.

"I have been troubled for years with a bad humor, and have used many remedies without success. During the last summer it manifested itself more than usual outwardly, and I used your Salve. All signs of it have since disappeared, without affecting me inwardly, indicating, I think, the eradication of the Salve."

WOMAN.

FEMALISM, OWING TO THE PECULIAR and important relations which they sustain, their peculiar organization, and the offices they perform, are subject to many sufferings. Freedom from these contribute in no small degree to their happiness and welfare, for none can be happy who are ill. Not only so, but no one of these various female complaints can long be suffered to run on without involving the general health of the individual, and are long producing permanent sickness and premature decline. Nor is it pleasant to consult a physician for the relief of these various delicate affections, and only the most urgent necessity will a true woman so far sacrifice her greatest charm as to do this. The sex will then thank us for placing in their hands simple specifics which will be found efficacious in relieving and curing almost every one of these troublesome complaints peculiar to the sex.

HELMHOLD'S EXTRACT OF BUCHU.—Hundreds suffer from indigestion, and hundreds of others apply vainly to druggists and doctors, who either utterly fail to relieve them, or the hope of a cure or merely remedies which make them worse. I would not wish to assert anything that would do it justice to the afflicted, but I am obliged to say that although I may be produced from excessive exhaustion of the powers of life, by laborious employment, unwholesome air and food, profuse menstruation, the use of tea and coffee, and frequent childbearing, it is far oftener caused by direct irritation, applied to the mucous membrane of the vagina itself.

When reviewing the causes of these distressing complaints, it is most painful to contemplate the attendant evils consequent upon them. It is but simple justice to the subject to enumerate a few of the many additional causes which so largely affect the life, health, and happiness of woman in all classes of society, and which, consequently, affect more or less directly, the welfare of the entire human race. The mania that exists for precocious education, and marriage, causes the years that nature destined for corporeal development to be wasted and perverted in the restraints of dress, the early commencement of school, and especially in the unhealthy excitement of the bedroom. Thus, with the body half-dressed, and the mind unduly excited by pleasure, perverting in midnight revels the hours designed by nature for sleep and rest, the work of destruction is half accomplished.

In consequence of this early strain, upon her system, unnecessary effort is required by the delicate votary to retain her situation in school at a later day, thus aggravating the evil. When one excitement is added to another, in prospective keeps the mind morbidly sensitive to impressions, while the too constant restraint of fashionable dress, absolutely forbidding the exercise indispensable to the attainment and retention of organic health and strength; the exposure to night air; the sudden change of temperature; the complete prostration produced by excessive dancing, must, of necessity, produce their legitimate effect. At last, an early marriage caps the climax of misery, and the unfortunate one, hitherto so utterly regardless of the pain, disease and remonstrances of her delicate nature, becomes an unwilling subject of medical treatment. This is but a truthful picture of the experience of thousands of our young women.

Long before the ability to exercise the functions of the generative organs, they require an education of their peculiar nervous system, composed of what is called the tissue, which is in common with the female breast and hips, evident under the control of the mind, and morbid associations at an early period of life, and we shall subsequently see, these emotions, when excessive lead, long before puberty, to habits which cap the very life of their victims are nature has self-completed their development.

For Female Weakness and Delicacy, Whites or Leucorrhoea, Too Profuse Menstruation, Exhaustion, Too Long Continued Periods, for Protrusion and Bearing Down, or Protrusion Uteri, we offer the most perfect specific known: HELMHOLD'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF BUCHU. Directions for use, diet, and advice, accompany.

Females in every period of life, from infancy to extreme old age, will find it a remedy to aid nature in the discharge of its functions. Strength is the glory of womanhood, and the most prominent of the United States, is now offered to afflicted humanity as a certain cure for the following diseases and symptoms, from whatever cause originating: General Debility, Mental and Physical Depression, Incontinence, Determination of Blood to the Head, Confused Ideas, Hysteria, General Irritability, Restlessness and Sleeplessness at Night, Absence of Muscular Efficiency, Loss of Appetite, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, Low Spirits, Disorganization or Paralysis of the Organs of Generation, Palpitation of the Heart, and, in fact, all the concomitants of a Nervous and Debilitated state of the system. To insure the genuine, cut this out. Ask for HELMHOLD'S, and take no other. Sold by Druggists and Dealers everywhere. Price $1.25 per bottle, or six bottles for $6.50. Delivered to any address. Water.

DEAR SIR: I write to acknowledge the fit I have received from the Welden Spring Water. I have been troubled with Disordered Kidneys for many years. I have consulted the best physicians in the country, and have received no relief. Some few months since I was recommended to try the Welden Spring Water. I had not taken it long before I was surprised to see how much good it had done. Since then I always keep it in my room and don't drink any other water, knowing that it will cure me. As I am anxious that it should be benefited by my experience, I fully recommend it to all suffering with same disease.

Respectfully,

E. S. GOODWIN.

DEAR SIR: I cheerfully comply with your request to give my candid opinion of the Welden Spring Water. For some years I have suffered much from Dyspepsia, and have exhausted patent medicines and the prescriptions of many physicians. I was advised to try the Welden Spring Water. I found it a tonic and general regulator of the system, enables me to eat any kind of food without inconvenience. The only evidence I can give my appreciation of its virtues is a recommendation to every one suffering from Dyspepsia.

Yours truly, FRANK B. DIXON
